

Dear Family of the Departed,

Our condolences and prayers go out to you in this, your time of loss. We want to handle your loved one's final arrangements with care, and we are here to assist you in any way we possibly can. Please contact the pastor as soon as possible. A meeting will be arranged to share stories of your loved one, figure out a date for the service so people can be notified, and discuss ideas for the service(s). If desired, you can ask the pastor to accompany you to the funeral home to make arrangements.

This booklet will help you in making these final arrangements for your loved one. If any question should arise that is not covered in this booklet, we will work with you in answering them.

Again, please accept our condolences on your loss. Know that our thoughts and prayers will be with you. We look forward to serving you.

Grace and Peace,
Pastor Will Starkweather

Questions

Deaths can be difficult emotionally. Yet, in the midst of swirling thoughts and feelings, certain logistics need to be addressed. Some initial questions that the pastor will pose and explore with you are as follows:

- What stories or photos do you want to share about the person who died?
- Did your loved one leave you with any service preferences?
- What kind of service is desired: funeral? memorial? interment?
- What date might be best for services?
- What scripture lessons might be appropriate?
- Are there any musical preferences: hymns/songs? soloists? preludes/postludes?
- Are there any people you might want you ask to speak?

These questions do not have to be answered at that first meeting. You might need some time to talk with others and just think. That is understandable. To help you with this process, we have listed the service components at the end of this document, along with various suggestions about music and scripture.

Additional questions will arise when the time is right. Examples include whether or not there will be a reception, pallbearers, designated memorials, or a bulletin (photo? obituary?). Do not be overwhelmed by these decisions now; the answers will unfold.

Eulogy / Remembrances

Given by family or close friends, these personal reflections should be no more than three minutes each, one to three remembrances are recommended.

Flowers

Flower arrangements of any size can be used to decorate the sanctuary area; the church has a few pedestals that can be used to help display these arrangements. No flowers will be placed on the altar, nor can they be placed anywhere that they would interfere with necessary traffic flow. Flowers are also welcome in the Narthex.

Photo / Table

Should you desire, you can create a table of various mementos and photos. We will work with you if this is something you might want.

Audio/Visual

Should you need to include pre-recorded music, film clips, or computer-generated imagery, we can accommodate you. A church-trained and approved A/V tech is provided.

Fees

Here is a breakdown of the funeral fees. Make out one check to the church and St. Martin's will render individual payments to all parties using its payroll system. You may bring the check to the church before the service or on the day of the service.

Pastor: A honorarium is given to the pastor for the services provided. There is no set fee.

Fees (as appropriately needed): Though consideration will be given to the size and complexity of the service, these fees are customary.
